

LEADING TO SUCCESS

Process Engineer – Thermoform Lab (f/m)

for Brueckner Group USA

REQUIREMENTS

- Knowledge of plastic materials
- Process experience of packaging thermoforming machinery
- Solid mechanical knowledge
- Must work well in a team environment and independently
- Must learn quickly & have focused troubleshooting skills in a dynamic environment

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Maintain and operate lab machines for customer and internal trials
- Create machine recipes for new tooling and debug process
- Provide training to our customers on process and machine operation
- Travel as necessary and be required to meet customers schedule
- Provide internal Sales support
- Serve as ambassador for BGU while interacting with customers
- Proactively contact current customers to promote sales

EXPERIENCE AND SKILLS

- Bachelor's degree preferred
- Excellent communication skills
- A self-starter able to work independently or as part of a team
- Positive attitude, flexible and swift decision making
- Must thrive in a deadline-driven, fast-paced team environment.
- Capable of multitasking between projects and departments.

WHO WE ARE

Brueckner Group USA, Inc. is the platform company of Brückner Group Germany, representing US, Canada and Mexico (NAFTA) as resellers and coordinators of sales, after-sales and manufacturing support in an optimal manner. Traditional values such as continuity, confidence, quality, dependability and reliability have been the key to our success, as well as many lifelong relationships. Our number one priority is to help our customers maximize their productivity, quality and ultimately profitability.

Are you interested?

If you feel your skills and experience would make you suitable for this position then send your resume to:

careers@brueckner-usa.com

Brueckner Group USA Inc.
200 International Drive
Suite 105
Portsmouth, NH 03801
USA